I live in London and want to buy a cheap used BMW . It does not necessarily need to be in a road worthy condition as I only want some interior parts off it to carry out some repairs on my old BMW 3 series racing car. I race it every now and then at specially organising track day events and things like interior mirrors, dials, gear levers and wing mirrors are prone to damage and need frequent replacement. A friend has suggested calling Big Motoring World Kent to see if they have an old trade in that they would normally scrap or send to auction.
